Detailed description: The musical score is divided into two systems. System 1 (measures 28) features three staves: Soprano (S.) in treble clef, Bass (B.) in bass clef, and Organ (Org.). The Soprano staff has a key signature of one sharp. The first measure (28) begins with a rest, followed by a note on the second line, then a rest. The second measure begins with a rest, followed by a note on the fourth line, then another note on the second line. The Bass staff also has a key signature of one sharp. The first measure begins with a rest, followed by a note on the fifth line, then another note on the second line. The second measure begins with a rest, followed by a note on the fourth line, then another note on the second line. The Organ staff has a key signature of one sharp. The first measure begins with a rest, followed by a note on the third line, then another note on the second line. The second measure begins with a rest, followed by a note on the fourth line, then another note on the second line. Measure 28 concludes with a double bar line. System 2 (measure 30) continues with the same three staves. The Soprano staff begins with a rest, followed by a note on the second line, then another note on the second line. The Bass staff begins with a rest, followed by a note on the fifth line, then another note on the second line. The Organ staff begins with a rest, followed by a note on the third line, then another note on the second line. The lyrics 'du - cé sla' are sung by both voices in measure 30. The score ends with a final double bar line.
